Jane Isaac is a writer and lives in rural Northamptonshire with her husband and daughter.

On realising she had a passion for writing Jane enrolled on a creative writing course and started writing articles for newspapers and magazines. She then discovered her love of writing fiction and, in 2007, embarked on her first novel, An Unfamiliar Murder, which was picked up by an American publisher..... And has never looked back.

Jane will give a talk about the trials and tribulations of writing a novel. Her DC Beth Chamberlain series is set in Northamptonshire and Beth is a family Liaison officer who lives in Mawsley!! Recognise her anyone?
